Location

Considering Frank Lloyd Wright's close, lifelong ties to Wisconsin, the 2018 conference in Madison is an opportune occasion for exploring the multi-dimensional nature of that relationship and efforts to safeguard its tangible manifestations. Presentations will address work by Wright in Wisconsin, important Wisconsin clients, Wright's Wisconsin family heritage, aspects of Wright's living and working environment at Taliesin, issues pertaining to the preservation of Wright's work in the state, and the impact Wright had on other Wisconsin architects.

Saving an architectural legacy

The Conservancy is the only organization focused exclusively on the preservation and maintenance of the remaining structures designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. The Conservancy owns no Wright buildings but strives to protect them all. Since its formation in 1989, the Conservancy has led efforts to save many Wright buildings that otherwise would have been lost forever.

EDUCATE

THE CONSERVANCY

Provides the opportunity to explore the richness of Wright's architecture through the first-hand experience of his buildings – many rarely open to the public.

Fosters research, exchange of ideas and networking among homeowners, architectural historians, preservation experts, educators, designers, students, and lovers of architecture through conferences, special events and discussions of the architect's work.

ADVOCATE

THE CONSERVANCY

Serves as a first line of defense against demolition or neglect of Wright structures by monitoring the status of Wright buildings.

Builds and communicates with a knowledgeable and committed preservation community that works together for the long-term survival of Wright-designed buildings.

Complements the efforts of Wright house museums and public sites to focus public attention on Wright buildings as irreplaceable cultural treasures.

PRESERVE

THE CONSERVANCY

Leads behind-the-scenes as well as public efforts that directly help save Wright structures at-risk.

Links Wright property owners with restoration and maintenance resources and helps facilitate preservation strategies such as preservation easements.

The Frank Lloyd Wright Building Conservancy is a charitable tax-exempt organization classified as a 501(c)(3) organization by the US Internal Revenue Service and is incorporated in the State of Illinois.
